Dear Selection Committee:

I am happy to write this letter of recommendation in support of Lyle Fogg's application to the MES Program at the Evergreen State College. I have known Mr. Fogg for about two years, as he studied with me in World of Writing classes in the Native Pathways Program (NPP) at the Evergreen State College.

Lyle Fogg's written work has been consistently strong. His low-stakes writing was various, exploratory, risk-taking, and, at times, profound. The foundational tools of analysis have been put to effective use, and he has strong, productive writing and thinking habits.

Additionally, he has done excellent work when assigned to a writing team in class, and these skills led to strong planning and application of a uniform writing process, imaginative rhetoric, clear and actionable thesis statements/abstracts, detailed and actionable outlines, rhetorical assessment documents, and idea-generating pre-writing and journal entries based on research. Use of accessible English, as well as the Elements of Indigenous Style handbook, was met with curiosity, attention, and intentional application to formal and informal written work.

With his dedication to detail, to conceptual perspective, to practical uses of knowledge, and to relational accountability in community—he operates in a way that is extraordinary. He is quiet and humble, yet strong and intentional. He is an excellent candidate for MES.

I am happy to give Lyle Fogg my highest recommendation as he has high potential for academic, professional, and community success. He is a natural thought leader, and has those hard-to-define qualities that make someone a true pleasure to work with. Should you have additional questions about this uniquely talented prospective student, please do not hesitate to contact me at hooverc@evergreen.edu.

Sincerely,

Carmen Hoover
