Statistics - Evergreen, Statistics I (#39567) - In Progress, Spring 2024

I plan on taking the two courses listed above in the Spring Quarter of 2024. Statistics 1 will fulfill the Statistics requirement, and Reindigenizing Soundscapes will fulfill the Social Sciences requirement. My personal interest in this course derives from my extensive personal background as a musician, and the fact that I have not taken any indigenous studies courses in an academic institution, which is a field of knowledge I believe is vital to working in the environmental sciences. I have confirmed that this second course will count for the Social Sciences Requirement through Averil Azar, and this will add to my philosophy minor and geography courses I completed during my time as an undergraduate to demonstrate my interest and robust background in the social sciences.

Petition Statement:

I completed a B.S. in Environmental Earth And Soil Sciences at Cal Poly San Luis Obispo beginning in 2014 and ending in 2019. Although all of my courses were taken more than 5 years ago, I believe that this academic background (as shown in my transcripts) should be sufficient to fulfill this requirement. In addition, the cumulative 2 years of professional experience I have completed within the past 5 years working for Tetra Tech and the Washington Conservation Corps (as shown in my resume), along with my degree, should be enough to successfully fulfill this requirement. Please let me know if there are any questions.
