

Prerequisite petition:

I'd like to petition for my work as a habitat restoration technician to be counted towards my natural science course requirement as well as my continued work as a science educator because both required me to use surveying, identifying species, and other scientific measurement techniques on a daily basis

I'd like to also petition that my work in education be counted towards a social sciences requirement, since education and child development knowledge was something I learned on the job.

For statistics, it is my hope that if my previous coursework is not sufficient in this area, that I will be able to take a statistics course over the summer at North Seattle community college, or else be allowed to take the prerequisite concurrently at Evergreen at the beginning of my studies if allowable.
