GREENVILLE
UNIVERSITY

February 6, 2025

To whom it may concern,

I am writing to recommend Kenzie File for your graduate program. I have been fortunate enough to have Kenzie in several of my classes, and have been her academic advisor during her time at Greenville University. I have found her to be intelligent and curious, consistently performing well in the classroom. She has exceptionally good writing skills. I was her instructor in her capstone seminar, where the major project is to write a small review paper. She handled that assignment very well, and I am confident she is prepared for graduate work. She is quiet but I have never seen her have problems working with other students, treating other people with respect. She comes to her advising appointments prepared and organized, and I believe that in addition to the necessary intelligence she has the work ethic and executive skills necessary for success in graduate school.

In summary, I wholeheartedly recommend Kenzie to your program, with the confidence that she will be able to perform very well and contribute to the success of those around her.

Sincerely,

Andrea Nord, Ph.D.
