Dear Evergreen State College Admission Team,

I am writing to wholeheartedly endorse Elisha Klco for admission to the Environmental Science Masters program at Evergreen State College. In my capacity as Elisha's supervisor at the Pacific Science Center, I have had the privilege of observing their dedication, passion, and exemplary performance firsthand.

During their tenure at the Pacific Science Center, Elisha has consistently demonstrated a deep commitment to science education, as evidenced by their involvement in various improvement projects and their invaluable contributions to the Science on Wheels team. They possess a rare combination of creativity, adaptability, and leadership skills that make them exceptionally well-suited for your Masters program.

Elisha's relentless pursuit of knowledge and their unwavering advocacy for inclusivity and equity within educational settings align perfectly with the values and mission of Evergreen State College. They have a proven track record of fostering curiosity, learning, and engagement among diverse audiences, qualities that will undoubtedly enrich the academic community at Evergreen.

I have no doubt that Elisha's passion for science education, coupled with their dedication to continuous improvement and advocacy, will make them an invaluable asset to the Environmental Science Masters program. I am confident that they will thrive academically and contribute meaningfully to the collaborative and interdisciplinary environment at Evergreen State College.

Please feel free to contact me if you require any further information or clarification regarding Elisha's qualifications and accomplishments.

Sincerely,

Shannon Davis
Science on Wheels Supervisor
