Dear Admissions Committee,

Jon has been an invaluable part of Free The Green as one of our most dedicated and talented Project Managers. His work ethic, leadership, and passion for environmental restoration have been critical to the success of our habitat restoration projects, and I am confident he will bring the same commitment and drive to the program he is applying for.

Jon has taken on significant responsibilities with Free The Green, including leading large-scale restoration projects and community engagement efforts. His ability to plan and execute projects, often under tight timelines and with multiple stakeholders. He also helps to manage our college interns, has consistently impressed me and continues to improve and hone all of those skills. Jon's work on restoring salmon habitats in the Green River Watershed has not only improved local ecosystems but also strengthened relationships within our community.

What sets Jon apart is his dedication to continued learning and hard work ethic. He's a natural leader who values teamwork and ensures everyone feels heard and supported. His ability to connect with people from all walks of life and his passion for sustainability make him a standout individual.

I believe Evergreen's interdisciplinary and hands-on approach is a perfect fit for Jon. He's someone who thrives in environments where he can apply his knowledge to real-world challenges while continuing to grow. I have no doubt he will make meaningful contributions to your community and excel academically.
