To Whom It May Concern:

I have known Kyla since August of 2014 as a parent volunteer in kindergarten-first grade classroom and later as a para educator at our school. I've been able to observe Kyla working with children daily for years. Kyla has been so much more than a paraeducator this year and she has worked with every student in my class in different capacities. She is always enthusiastic, patient, resourceful, and above all, kind. She is thoughtful and thorough and incredibly hard working. With children, she is consistent and very positive and they love her and know she is a steady safe person they can come to and trust. It is a matter of habit for her to be upbeat, positive, and friendly. She is very aware of student needs and is eager to support children. She is energetic, agreeable, attentive, open, and honest.

Kyla is also extremely reliable and punctual, and is a great communicator. She and I have worked side by side this year and it has been such a pleasure to have her in our room. She is always willing to stay a little later during her break or after school and I regularly see her helping children communicate with each other and supporting them in doing the work to repair friendships after misunderstandings. As Kyla supports children all over our school, her attitude never changes; she remains upbeat and positive and always steady. I can only surmise that this must be a testament to her endurance and determination. She is unflappable, and after hearing about her plans to support and engage children as a educator,, I am thrilled to recommend her!

Kyla has chosen a great career path for herself. She seems truly to enjoy her work with children and our class certainly loves her presence in the classroom. She will be, without a doubt, an asset to any future employer; I would not hesitate to recommend her for any position.

Sincerely,

Beth Kim
