To Whom It May Concern:

It is my honor to write a letter of recommendation on behalf of Jalyn Sackrider. I have had the honor of being part of this incredible young woman's life since she was in preschool and it is without an ounce of hesitation to say that she exemplifies nothing less than excellence in her character, work ethic and team met-set! Jalyn is one of those few and far in between students that does all that she does with absolute brilliance! She will be an excellent addition to your education program and the profession of education.

Jalyn is a young woman of genuine personal integrity. In a world where so many people at large, struggle with character issues, Jalyn is a pillar of respect- for herself and the world around her! She is conscientious about her influence in the lives of literally countless impressionable young children that look up to as their role model. Her decisions, outside hobbies and involvement, choice of dress, language and overall personality communicates a dedication towards upstanding citizenship. She is uncompromising in her character.

Jalyn also has above and beyond what would be expect for a strong work ethic. She gives everything she does with passion and zeal. You will never see her give up; her grades, athletics and school involvement attest to this hard working attitude. Jalyn also has the ability to manager her time and balance a very full plate. She has always been extremely active in a wide variety of school related and community-based activities. What I appreciate most about this work ethic is the heart that matches it. She not only is willing to work hard, but she is intrinsically motivated to do so!

Jalyn's peers and anyone who has the opportunity to work with her would also attest to her team mindset. Jalyn is never consumed by getting the credit, but by getting a job done. She sets up others for success and is a champion for the team- whether it's on or off the court. Jalyn is selfless, but this does not translate to passive. Jalyn is driven to win at all she does, but she does so with a grace and dignity that you will be hard to find in other students her age (or adults!)

As an educator and in my current position, I have the honor of working with and getting to know many students and graduates. It is without a doubt that Jalyn Sackrider will forever be in my Hall of Fame! She is a very special young woman who will succeed in life and be a powerful part of educating the future. Her admittance into your program will no doubt be an excellent addition.

Respectively,

Stephanie Smith
Director and Owner
