To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to recommend Allison Bullard for admission to any education graduate program to which she may apply. I have supervised Allison for two years at Little Mountain Montessori, starting as Afternoon Assistant Teacher and then as Afternoon Lead Teacher since September of 2023. Allison is consistently cheerful and enthusiastic when working with the children. She is thoughtful and empathetic when helping the students work through social or emotional issues. Allison is able to do overview of twenty children ages ranging from two and a half to five years old. She daily watches over children in a classroom and outdoor environment. Allison holds the children's focus at circles while providing a fun and educational experience. She shows great communication skills when discussing with parents how their child's day went. Allison is also in charge of one other staff member and does well with delegation.

Allison excels in teaching and supervising art projects with the children. She has created age appropriate projects and gives clear directions. Allison encourages the children to use their own creativity and self-expression when teaching art projects. Her monthly lesson plans show an organized and in-depth approach. Allison is punctual, professional and shows a good work ethic.

Sincerely,
