Re: Joshua Fritch recommendation letter

To Whom it May Concern;

I offer my strongest, most enthusiastic recommendation for Joshua Fritch's acceptance into the Evergreen Masters in Education program.

I can think of no one more suited for the role of teacher-activist than Josh. I know Josh well both from his time living in my home as a student boarder, and as a co-participant in community forums. Josh possesses a powerful, self-directed curiosity to investigate a remarkable range of studies, yet also a keen drive to discuss and build on ideas with people from all walks of life. His remarkable talent for prompting thoughtful discussion and sincere listening will make him the kind of teacher who makes a deep, meaningful impact on future students.

Josh displays a heartfelt awareness of the complexities facing our global community. He demonstrates a desire for equity and justice. I've witnessed first-hand how Josh's gentle patience and ability to accept and meet others at intersections of understanding transforms adversarial debates into authentic moments of connection and learning for all involved.

In the Master program, Josh will thrive as an active, engaged student who also enriches and supports his peers' learning. This program will add a bevy of skills and experience to an already talented facilitator/thinker. Josh is exactly the kind of person I want teaching the coming generations. His impact on this world will be mighty and wonderful.

Sincerely,

Kelsye Nelson
