It is my pleasure to recommend Emma Gutthen for admission into the MiT Program at Evergreen State College. I have known Emma on a personal basis for three years and worked with her as her lead teacher at Meadows Elementary in the North Thurston Public Schools. I can genuinely attest to her character and work ethic suitability, which would be an asset to the MiT program at Evergreen State College.

Emma has always displayed a high degree of reliability, responsibility, and flexibility. Special Education classrooms are known to be a service and not a location for students with mild to severe disabilities (physically and mentally). Within Special Education classrooms students are serviced in their individual needs ranging from cognitive, adaptive, social, communication, auditory, visual, occupational, and/or physical. Therefore, flexibility and adaptability are critical characteristics one must have to work within a Special Education Classroom. During my time working with Emma, there was never a day where Emma did not demonstrate these characteristics. Her persistence, flexibility, and ability to adapt to each individual student's need was a direct correlation to the success of the classroom. I especially appreciated Emma's readiness to take on new challenges and projects that I assigned to her. She is a quick learner and is efficient in completing her tasks.

Emma would be a strong asset to the MiT program at Evergreen State College, and I am happy to give her my highest recommendation. She is well deserving of admission. She will do great things with her higher education knowledge.
