To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing this letter to recommend Ashley Vancil for the MIT graduate program. I had the pleasure of working with Ashley when she was employed at our early learning center. She worked as an art teacher and was responsible for teaching art to all the students. Ashley is well-versed in visual arts and shared her knowledge with enthusiasm.

She designed engaging and age-appropriate art activities and curriculum, and exposed the staff and the students to a range of art techniques. The children enjoyed learning from her, and she was successful in developing and strengthening their artistic abilities and creative curiosities.

Aside from teaching, Ashley was also instrumental in displaying the students' artwork, designing and creating bulletin boards, and wall art for each classroom. I have worked with Ashley in classrooms and found her eager to lead the students to success while allowing them to express themselves creatively. She conducts her classes with discipline but also promotes an environment that fosters excitement and creativity.

Ashley's artistic ability is greatly appreciated by all the students, staff, and families. She is always willing to help wherever needed. Her artistic talent, tender heart, and helpful nature inspire myself and others to create more and do more good. I would highly recommend Ashley for the MIT graduate program.

Sincerely,

Melissa Davis
