I am writing to enthusiastically recommend my undergraduate student Wren Gauthier for admission to Evergreen State College's Master's in Teaching program. Wren was one of the top students in my senior seminar in American literature this past fall here at Western Washington University.

Wren is a serious, smart student who excelled in the seminar that she took from me, which is a course that we consider to be the capstone course in the English major. Wren was always prepared, listening intently, and eager to learn and process. Wren stays fully alert to the material and the discussions, alive to ideas and nuances and sensitive to issues of class and race. She speaks well and often in class discussion, clearly conveying her thoughts and meaning.

Wren's literature courses in the English major at Western and her overall thriving experience in her undergraduate education contribute to her desire to teach, to teach inclusively, and to learn from pedagogical course work. Wren shows significant potential as a teacher. She would thrive in Evergreen's courses.

I recommend Wren Gauthier very highly with no reservations whatsoever. Please feel free to contact me should you have questions or need further information.
