Q2. Please rate the quality of the course using the following scale:

1	I was happy with the choice of instructors, both were informative and knowledgeable pertaining the subject at hand. Mr. Baldwin's presented humor with his lectures which was helpful in understanding economic development. Mr. McCoy experience as a legislature was an extra plus, his experience working with tribes was an important factor and taught me more about the methods tribes use to improve as a tribe. 2	This was the information that I was waiting for when I enrolled. Marc Baldwin's expertise was informative and relevant. His presentation's were quick and concise. Senator McCoy gave a valued perspective with growing an economy on the reservation.	Dec 12, 2013 12:52 AM
3	I would recommend faculty encourage students in group conversations to leave room for silence to hear others. Kind of annoying when there is only one or two overly talkative students taking over conversations or only one's first to give feedback. A lot can be learned from silence, as well. Q3. Please rate the quality of the course using the following scale:

1	Wish there was more classes.	Dec 20, 2013 3:12 PM

Q4. Should the MPA program offer this course again?

1	Economics has become driven by consumerism. The whole premise is a juxtaposition to Native culture, values and ethics. Greed seems to be the wasteland that Indian Country has embraced.	Dec 11, 2013 11:53 PM

1	What about Non-Profits? How about non-traditional economic development practices?	Dec 11, 2013 11:53 PM
2	Love the level of experience of faculty.	Dec 11, 2013 8:27 PM
