

You're Invited to the Northwest Indian Applied Research Institute Indigenous Lecture Series

"Conducting Research
in Native Communities:
My Dineh (Navajo) Experience"

Friday,
October 14, 2011
10AM to noon

Lecture Hall 5

Chris Shuey, MPH, SW Research and
Information Center,
Albuquerque NM

Chris Shuey has over 30 years experience working and conducting research on the Navajo reservation. Presently, he is Co-Principle Investigator with the Navajo Kidney Study. His research has focused on environmental health and epidemiology. He edited Mine Talk, working with Navajo communities on uranium mining and with other environmental groups on national oil and gas waste issues in Dineh Bikeyah.

