

TESC MPA Employer Survey - 2012 Program Assessment

Are there any specialized or discipline-specific knowledge, skills and abilities you note in Evergreen MPA students/interns/alumni? For example, Tribal governance, public policy, nonprofit management, research and policy analysis, etc.? (please fill in)

Response
Count

24 answered question

24

skipped question

7

Page 5, Q1. Are there any specialized or discipline-specific knowledge, skills and abilities you note in Evergreen MPA students/interns/alumni? For example, Tribal governance, public policy, nonprofit management, research and policy analysis, etc.? (please fill in)

1	public policy, policy analysis, financial systems and corporation analysis	Dec 11, 2012 3:04 PM
2	Students integrate their know of Native Americans plight and how the struggle continues to educate the next generation. Perseverance, attitudes of warriors, not in the sense of fighting, but continuing due diligence in the arena of improving our lives.	Nov 30, 2012 1:44 PM
3	Hard to answer. Not sure what you are asking.	Nov 28, 2012 10:06 AM
4	Many of them have been strong researchers and editors when working on grants, not all have had the skills to work on grants independently, even after having taken the grants course. Some though have excelled in this area. All have had great attention to detail and good project management skills.	Nov 28, 2012 9:54 AM
5	public policy	Nov 28, 2012 9:25 AM
6	public policy, research	Nov 28, 2012 9:08 AM
7	public policy, research and policy analysis	Nov 28, 2012 9:03 AM
8	Research and policy analysis seem especially good.	Nov 28, 2012 8:25 AM
9	Public policy, human rights, public administration, policy analysis	Nov 28, 2012 5:31 AM
10	staff who are extremely dedicated to the personal/professional missions	Nov 27, 2012 6:20 PM
11	The Evergreen MPA grad's wholistic approach to policy analysis is worthy of note.	Nov 20, 2012 10:40 AM
12	Research and policy analysis; attention to issues of disparate populations, public policy	Nov 16, 2012 4:02 PM
13	Evergreen MPA program provides for a broad understanding of policy at the senior level.	Nov 15, 2012 9:48 PM
14	Education policy and program research skills and strong abilities to present data to make case for programs.	Nov 15, 2012 7:12 PM
15	What stands out when comparing Evergreen MPA alumni to other employees is a desire to understand the deeper context of an issue or problem, rather than simply find a quick surface-level solution and move on to the next task. Also, there is a tolerance for difficult, messy issues and an intellectual and personal interest in helping to address them. I can count on the fact that these students and alumni have experience working with others.	Nov 15, 2012 10:20 AM
16	Policy	Nov 15, 2012 7:25 AM
17	Public policy and policy analysis.	Nov 15, 2012 5:28 AM
18	Public policy and public sector budget skills...or at least aptitude.	Nov 14, 2012 8:00 PM
19	research and policy analysis	Nov 14, 2012 7:27 PM

Page 5, Q1. Are there any specialized or discipline-specific knowledge, skills and abilities you note in Evergreen MPA students/interns/alumni? For example, Tribal governance, public policy, nonprofit management, research and policy analysis, etc.? (please fill in)

20	research and policy analysis	Nov 14, 2012 6:20 PM
21	Works well in collaboration with non profit partners	Nov 14, 2012 5:02 PM
22	public policy, research and policy analysis, program development, program evaluation	Nov 14, 2012 4:25 PM
23	Non profit management	Nov 14, 2012 2:02 PM
24	research and policy, program and procedure development and implementation	Nov 14, 2012 11:17 AM